TRIAL & ARBITRATION SUPPORT

The professionals in FTI Consulting's Trial and Arbitration Support practice provide a seamless hearing room experience, allowing you and your team to focus on your advocacy and argument. Our technology professionals prepare all of your evidence, making it easy to access, review, and present, while our graphics professionals help make your presentations more memorable and persuasive.

We provide complete support for arbitrations throughout the world, from preliminary hearings through post-hearing briefs.

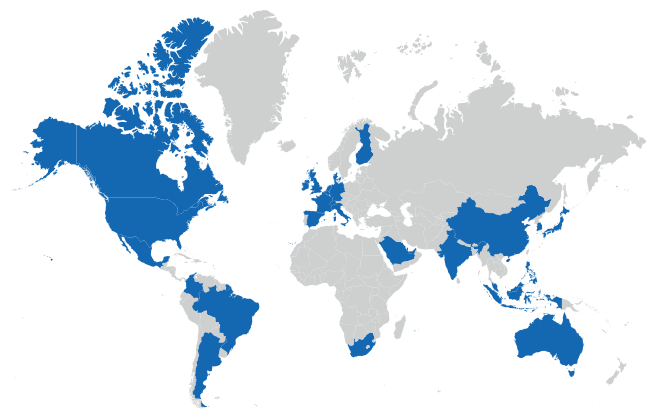

- Evidence presentation, case management platforms and audiovisual equipment for the hearing
- Hosting and support for remote participants or fully remote proceedings
- Persuasive graphics

Our team knows how to handle the details, so you can concentrate on what's important.

With offices in every major financial center and every corner of the globe, we successfully serve our clients wherever challenges and opportunities arise.

Our Trial and Arbitration Support team is highly regarded by the leading law firms and arbitration panels, arbitral bodies and institutions globally. We are preferred partners for both World Bank/ICSID and PCA. This recognition reflects our team's expertise, professionalism, and commitment to providing outstanding service to our clients in complex and high-stakes disputes.

Our professionals include attorneys, along with technical experts and creatives, able to support one party, in the manner common in U.S. trials, or all parties on a neutral basis. Our most senior consultants are not just managers, they work onsite, applying their many years of experience (25+ years on average) to ensure your success.

The FTI Consulting Difference

We support hearings as a professional service, rather than merely with software and hardware systems. We specialize in and fully support electronic presentation of evidence and provide custom solutions throughout the project. We customize our work, our approach and the equipment to meet the needs of each hearing whether fully remote, in-person or hybrid.

Our global presence allows us to provide whatever support is needed, most anywhere it's needed – whether it's a remote witness participating from their local country or a full-scale event with a fully-wired hearing room, breakout rooms and catering.

Our Trial & Arbitration Support professionals include Spanish, French, Creole and German speakers and FTI's global professionals provide language support in many other languages, including Japanese, Korean, Chinese, Filipino, Malay, Hindi, Hebrew, Arabic, Danish, Italian and Dutch.

Confidentiality and Compliance

FTI Consulting is a publicly-traded company with more than 7,700 employees in more than 31 countries. We support some of the largest, most complex matters globally. Our reputation and very existence depend on managing engagement confidentiality to the highest standard.

- FTI Consulting maintains stringent conflicts, compliance and confidentiality procedures, including strict ethical walls.
- We can maintain files in compliance with data protection regulations, including GDPR, CCPA, BDSG, APEC and more.
- We work closely with FTI Consulting's Cybersecurity practice to ensure all client-provided data is managed securely.

How We Support

Our professionals learned by supporting thousands of U.S. litigations in the highly demanding advocacy support role. We provide neutral support with the same level of expertise and dedicated service, taking full responsibility for presenting evidence in the hearing room, alleviating counsel of those concerns so they can focus on their case.

With offices around the world, we have professionals in most major business centers – people familiar with local resources and able to fulfill logistical needs. We're adept at adhering to local business practices, currencies, etc. – making it easy to work together.

The Details – Before the Proceeding

Evidence Management & Review

There are many tools available to manage and review evidence as you prepare for a hearing and FTI Consulting can work with you, no matter your preference. You can use your own tools or FTI's free, simple, cloud-based system, accessed through the same secure portal used by remote participants to the hearing.

Lexel® Evidence Management & Review

If you need FTI Consulting to provide a more robust solution, we offer integrated access to the Lexel® evidence management and review platform. Lexel® allows your team to prepare all of the evidence, transcripts and video, using a modern, intuitive interface to issue-tag, make notes, create hyperlinks, and efficiently collaborate, with granular access control in the weeks and months leading up to your hearing.

Demonstrative Graphics

Our graphics team can be engaged by individual parties to create demonstrative evidence, most often used in opening or closing arguments or with expert testimony. Our Visual Communications practice provides complete graphics consulting and design to help your presentations be more memorable and persuasive. Contact our graphics team to engage whatever support you need, either together with dedicated evidence presentation or separated with ethical walls from neutral support.

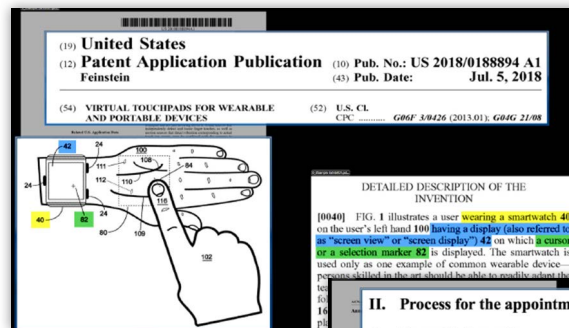

The Details – At the Proceeding

Imagine Presenting Evidence in a Way That Makes Sense

When it's time for the proceeding, FTI Consulting can deliver top-tier court reporting with integrated real-time, allowing a single interface for the legal team that includes searchable access of each day's transcript.

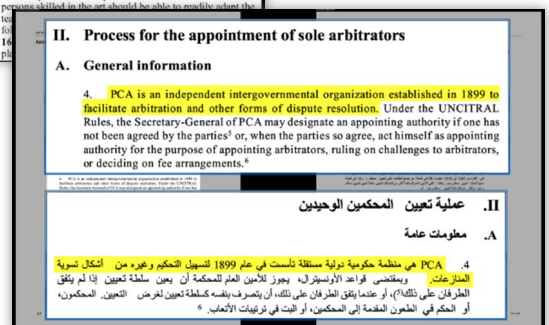

Our electronic presentation of evidence sets FTI Consulting apart. Our counsel-friendly approach grew from our long history in U.S. litigation, where boundless service and accommodating the needs of each legal team has long been the norm. We do more than fulfill the record, we make it easy for counsel to use the evidence to make meaningful points.

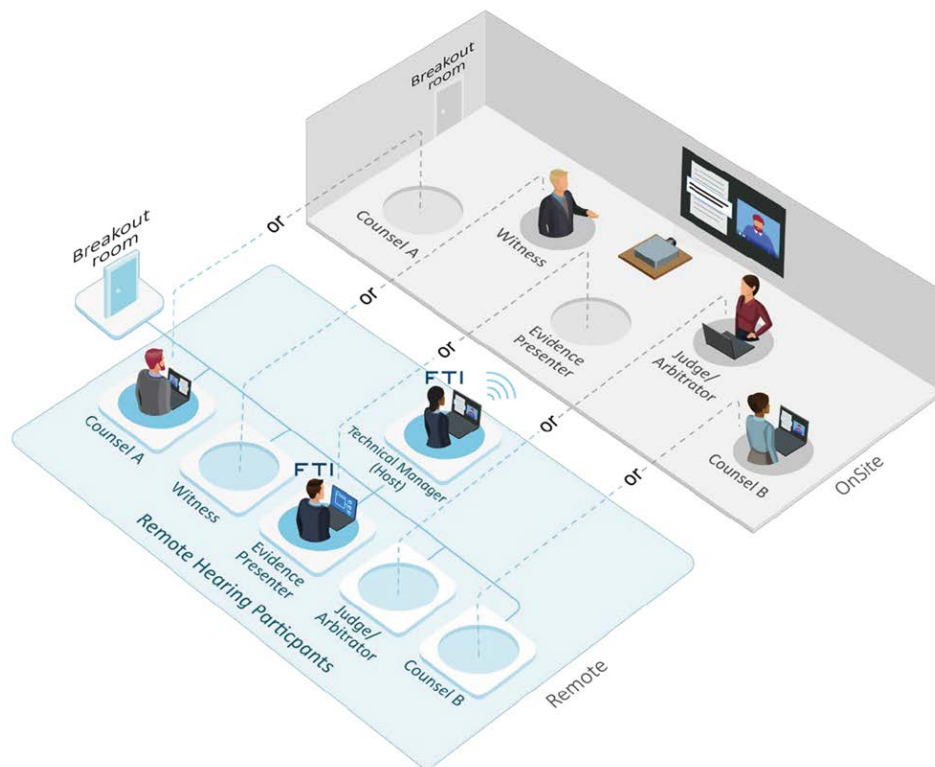

- Unlike some others, neither our consultants nor the platform impose an outside naming convention on the evidence.
- We thoroughly prepare in advance of each day in court to be familiar with the day's evidence and follow your presentation plan.
- Our professional presentation consultants follow along, displaying documents side-by-side, highlighting and enlarging as needed, to help lend meaning to testimony. This is especially important when displaying foreign-language documents and supporting non-native speakers.
- Engage our evidence presentation independently or as part of a complete solution.

Tie elements together to give meaning to the evidence on display

Accommodate multilingual hearings and witnesses

Onsite, Remote or Hybrid Hearings

Arbitral hearings are far more varied than they were in years past and FTI Consulting is expert at supporting any mix of onsite and remote participants. While the hearing may be fully onsite or fully remote, it's just as likely to have one or two witnesses remote to an otherwise onsite hearing, or you may need the hearing livestreamed to a broader audience.

We can provide access to digital evidence, equipment and technical support at whatever level is needed.

- Optional Remote Equipment Kit: a small, secure laptop with two external monitors.
- 360° Room Monitoring Camera can be added to monitor a witness and their environment during testimony. Upon approval, this video feed can be accessed by counsel or recorded to preserve the testimony.
- Remote technical support: our team can maintain remote control, before and during the proceeding, to ensure security and fast troubleshooting.
